EDITORIAL COMMENT

IMPROVED INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS.

The news from New York is to the effect that the financial slump in Wall street has been occasioned by the withdrawal of the professional traders, and that now the small traders are getting out of the market, disgusted with its methods. While the stocks of Wall street are in unsatisfactory shape, the industries all over the country are getting in better condition each day. Each day there is a demand for more men, and news comes of big institutions resuming work. Yesterday the St. Louis Iron and Steel Company put to work 900 men, and in a few days 400 more men will go to work in the tinplate plants. The government has ordered a hundred thousand stands of arms to be furnished to the militia throughout the country, all of which means better times.

There is always uncertainty in the days preceding the national conventions, but this year the issues are pretty well settled upon, and it is pretty well understood who the candidates will be. The conventions will be over in July, and business will be on a more stable foundation. The talk of war has been a disturbing element in some quarters, but a war with Japan would have a beneficial effect rather than a deterrent one. It would wake the apathetic up and it would create more business in the United States than anything else. The last war we had, although cruel and deplorable, was the best thing that had happened to us for many years, and when it was over we were on a more prosperous footing than we had been in a long time. Wioting occurred here this evening. ♦ Japanese seem determined that we shall have it; so it will probably be necessary to give the little brown men a lesson in good manners.

The breaking away of the small traders from Wall street is a good sign for the stocks of Nevada, for it is to those securities that the investors and speculators will turn. The mines of this camp were never in better condition, and the stocks never offered a better opportunity for investment or speculation. The same can be said of Nevada's new El Dorado, Rawhide.

CHINA WORRIED OVER FRONTIER

PEKING, Feb. 13.—Border complications and the successes of the rebels on the French border, due, it is believed, to foreign assistance, have induced the Chinese government to hasten the organization of her modern drilled troops at all the frontier points. The government proposes again to send Prince Su to Mongolia for the purpose of developing plans looking to the organization of defenses for frontier districts. A modern drilled skeleton brigade is now on its way to Tibet for the purpose of organizing a Tibetan division.

The fact that the Indo-Tibet trade convention has not been concluded prevents, for the present, the evacuation of the Chumbi valley by the British troops. This delay tends to bring Great Britain into conflict with the Anglo-Russian convention, which regulates the respective interests of these two powers in Tibet, Afghanistan and Persia, and which China is using for the purpose of reducing Great Britain's right in dealing directly with the Tibetans to the minimum. China is striving to secure an exact definition of Great Britain's relations with Tibet.

A Modern Valentine

♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦
Cupid, puzzled, frowns and scowls,
"What CAN a fellow send," he growls,
"Chocolate creams, or pasteboard hearts,
Violets blue, or tinsel darts.
For modern maids are all too old,
What valentine, now, for lovers bold?"
♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦
Cupid, happy, 'gins to dimple,
"I have it now, 'tis very simple:
The valentine for modern maid,
Is a stock certificate, fully paid,
Her love, I'm sure, will ne'er grow cold,
If you send at once some PEDRO GOLD."

will be another passenger for the new gold field.
W. B. Pittman, the well known lawyer, will go tomorrow morning to Rawhide. Mr. Pittman has already made several deals in the camp, and has other interests. On this trip he is going to establish a branch of his law office in Rawhide.

RAWHIDE ORE EXCITES PEOPLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Special correspondence of the Reno Journal: Mining circles of this city maintain an unflagging interest in the new camp of Rawhide, as has been demonstrated during the past few days here by the attention attracted by a very fine display of rock from the new camp, brought here by Donough and Clifford of the Grutt company.

The lobby of the Holland has been a veritable reception room in which a great many people have congregated to look at this ore and ask questions concerning it and the new camp. The rock displayed is a fine bluish quartz, of not too fine grain, showing a stringer of almost solid gold, varying in width from a hair to three-quarters of an inch, and carrying also about 1500 ounces of silver to the ton.

Donough and Clifford explain that the rock is from their lease on the Grutt property, better known as lease No. 3, and from the adjoining ground on the Grutt fraction, on both of which properties they have sunk a 50-foot shaft, and started to crosscut. The samples of high grade shown, are from a small stringer in the heart of a 22-inch vein, contained in a ledge of about six feet.

"There are upwards of thirty leases working in the new camp now," said Mr. Donough, "where there are, all told, about 3000 people. There was a time not long since when money was very scarce there, and it was hard on the outsider unless he came there well provided with money, but now it is no different from any other camp in that respect, and I will venture to say that there are fewer people there who are really hard up than any camp in the State.

"Regarding the outlook as to labor, I do not anticipate any trouble at Rawhide such as has been experienced in other parts of the State. We have the most conservative and best lot of men at the head of the unions there that I have ever met, and it would be impossible to conceive of a situation arising where they are concerned, which could not be readily and easily adjusted.

"I expect Rawhide, within the next couple of years to be the greatest producing camp in the State, and I think that length of time is setting the margin plenty wide enough. It would be no use trying to tell you much about the mines or prospects there, because they beat anything I have ever seen, and I do not care to be quoted as telling things which common sense tells me would not be believed, yet which are true. We have the gold, and lots of it, so it follows that we will shortly have a town worthy of our mines."

Mr. Donough and Mr. Clifford will leave for Los Angeles this evening, and may return to Rawhide via Goldfield.

BANK OF RAWHIDE OPENS.

A party consisting of W. E. Sirbeck, of Reno, Charles A. Gehrman, of Fairview, and Fred Manass, will leave Reno this morning for Rawhide, where they will open a new bank immediately upon their arrival. It will be known as the Bank of Rawhide and will be capitalized at $25,000. The two-story building in which the bank will be housed, and which is the property of the banking company, was started in November and is already in shape for occupancy.

The president of the new bank will be Charles A. Gehrman, who holds the same position in the Bank of Fairview, Fred Manass will be the cashier, and Walter E. Sirbeck will have the management of all the outside affairs and transactions of the bank.

With the installation of the new institution Rawhide will have two banks.

JERE REVERE IS MADE SERGEANT

GOLDFIELD, Feb. 13.—Will H., better known by the nickname of "Jere" Revere, will leave this morning for Carson City, to take charge of a squad of mounted police. He has been appointed as one of the four sergeants in the new force, and the number of men he will have under him is said to be an even dozen. The news of the appointment came to Claude Inman, as follows: "Telegram received. Will appoint Revere. Would like him to come to Carson to take squad back, which is now ready. W. L. Cox."

TURNING OUT THE BEST WORK

The bindery of the Bonanza is turning out the best work in the city, and it is giving such great satisfaction that anyone who has his work done there once, never goes anywhere else. The plant is the finest and most complete, not only in the State, but this side of San Francisco. We can turn out all kinds of work that is demanded in the offices of lawyers, brokers, promoters, mining companies, or for any other kind of business, and we guarantee satisfaction in every respect. One trial will be sufficient to establish the truth of this statement. It pays to go where only the best kind of work is done, and it pays to patronize home industry.
